THAT SIFTING JOB.

And now there is further light on the in's and out's of this very remarkable job. On the 22nd ult. Mr. Norris, Sec. of the Liberal Association of London, and a councillor of St. John Municipality, introduced the following resolution:

"And whereas said report shows that the Municipal Council of said Municipality was indebted to the Municipality to the amount of $6,105.90.

"And whereas part of said amount was made up of postpaid bills for Treasurers and amounts charged for which vouchers could not be obtained, and in consideration of this Council related them (sic) and after fully considering the balance still remaining of amount shown by Auditor the Council has come to the conclusion that the amount covers a number of years and that the Council do not consider that the said Treasurer was intentionally dishonest and therefore deem it inadvisable to take any legal action, and accept this settlement as being a final and legal action of a criminal nature as far as it is in their power." Carried.

Mr. Dickson's bare note to the Council, which we received the government recommended the Council to accept, and are going to liquidate it in part themselves by Mr. Dickson's personal indemnity.

To correct the wrong done as far as possible, by the foregoing resolution in withdrawing a plea and friend at the expense of the Municipality, Councilors Andrew and Fry, in many ways this year have been very busy.

Whereas by order of the Honorable Governor in Council a special audit of the accounts of the Municipality was recently made, showing that the late Treasurer, Mr. Edward Dickson, is indebted to the Municipality to the sum of $6,105.90.

That the said Treasurer was not a criminal in the eyes of the law, and that the said Treasurer was not a criminal in the eyes of the law, and that the said Treasurer was not a criminal in the eyes of the law.

Further that the Secretary-Treasurer and the Solicitor be authorized and instructed to furnish any information to the Judge and to attend the investigation on behalf of the Municipality whenever so requested by the Judge. Carried.

Notwithstanding then the winking at and closing of this really transaction by the government, justice is likely to be brought to the surface. As many have nothing but the tenderest feelings for Mr. Dickson, the nature of the transaction the circumstances will allow, but as little reverence as possible is made to him, but nonetheless the part played by the government who ought to be the custodians of public morality, is the subject for universal censure.

THE SCHOOL CASE.

The Enquirer, commenting on the case, says the report marks another stage in this new educational litigation, regarding the case in Canada, the case in which which can scarcely yet be foreseen. The position now is that the Roman Catholic minority can come before the governor in council and the latter are bound to hear what they have to say. If they think sufficient hardship has not been made out in call for interference, if none they will take no action. If such justice is shown in their judgment requires a remedy, the procedure is to request the Manitoba authorities to give such relief as is deemed requisite.

If the Manitoba legislature refuses to do so then the Dominion parliament has power to pass remedial legislation. There is no doubt but that in conducting the school properties the Catholics bought and paid for with their own money, the Local Government did the Catholics a serious wrong that should be remedied. In insisting on Protestant teaching in the schools under an alleged non-sectarian Act, the government committed another serious wrong. If the Local government persist in their Protestant teaching, the Federal government will be justified in granting remedial legislation. If, however, the Local government surrenders to the schools wholly, the people will abstain from interference from the Federal government. We are aware the Catholics contend that no secular education is complete without a mixture of the religious, which, of course, implies the Roman Catholic, but the sooner they disabuse their minds of the feeling the entire community will be brought to think that way, the better for themselves. The masses will consent to a general secular education for the youth, but it must be at as low a cost as possible.

Those who want special religious teaching at the same time must look for it to some other quarter.

FINANCING.

That excellent municipal authority on 10th street holds the old council up for special commendation, because they have left the city without a cent of floating debt; but he fails to tell the people how the clearance was made, that they may pass their own opinion upon it. Our readers will remember that at the first of 1894 there was some $28,000 on hand received from back taxes, and designed as the by laws provide, for sinking fund for debentures maturing. That money has been taken for the ordinary payments of the year including interest. At the close of 1894 another tax sale was held and some $20,000 realized. This money was, on the face of the declaration of the statement of assets to the contrary has been used for the ordinary expenses.

The ordinary payments have been met it is true, but the sinking fund has been sacrificed, and the Times declares, most noble council, with most praiseworthy financing. This is a piece with a man taking trust funds to pay personal liability, and folding his hands declaring he owes nothing. As a matter of fact had the spirit and letter of debenture law been complied with, at the close of 1894 the council would have had a deficit of some $45,000.

If the debenture holders are satisfied the council did the best thing for the people, but the Act is not as the Times says the result of a stroke of masterly financial sag.

CITY ECONOMY.

We don't know that our new city council are doing the smart thing possible in inaugurating a system of greater economy in running the local affairs that are not now accepted. It is right that a further salary should be paid than those for which equally good men can be hired, but all the saving that can be done, can have no appreciable reduction in the tax. We are now paying about $30,000 a year for interest, and if the burden of the people are to be lightened here is where the pressure must be applied. It is now no time to quarrel with the causes of this indebtedness the burden is there and the only thing left is to face it.

To our mind nothing short of legislation limiting the assessors, and the rate of taxation, to what can be borne for a period of years, and specifying the uses to which the collections are to be applied, can save the city. For instance if by a statute valid for number of years assessment was limited to two-thirds of the value, and the rate to five per cent on the $2, the rate of paying so many millions for current expenses, so many for schools and so many for interest on indebtedness, it would be a practical step toward inspiring the people with new hopes and renewed energy. This enactment would, of course, save of repudiation, but as that has been commenced by the lopping off of sinking fund collections it is only a case of going one better in the same direction.

Then again the school expenditure would bear pruning. We readily admit there is not a teacher in the city over paid—in fact all the educationalists of the country are under paid considering the money made by people in other professions, but what we do claim is that since all the work is class teaching, the staff might be reduced and more classes given to the teachers retained. This at least is our opinion on the matter.

The Local government have added another to their already more than numerous disgraceful acts, in the dismissal of J. C. Todd from the Police Magistracy of this city. Mr. Todd, like others, has his faults, but taken all in all, the general expression is he has made a most efficient officer, and his dismissal is for no other reason than that a better job was wanted his salary. Against his successor Mr. K. Campbell we have not a word to say—he is a respectable citizen, and had the same control through the teacher resignation of Mr. Todd, the public would be inclined to say the late appointment was a good one. But when the public is prompted by the government is no higher than despatching, for the benefit of latter portions, it must be declared most reprehensible by every class of the community. It was despatching for a reason the government was after, they should have tried their hand on Mr. Dickson, M.P.P. of Oak Lake. If Mr. Todd had only retired quietly and went for Mr. Sifton in elections, he never would have been disturbed in his position no matter what his decisions on office.

It does not look as if some members of the council were disposed to treat the present Sec. Treas. Mr. McMillan as honestly as he should be treated. Since he took office he held all departments of his trust in systematic form without a tangle, and in many respects at considerable saving to the people. In a word he has made a most satisfactory official in every department of his duties. It is now quite evident policies have been at the bottom of the scheme since Mr. McMillan last year signified his intention to resign. Had it been otherwise Mr. McMillan or Mr. Moody would have then got the position, as there was no questioning the ability of either for the position. Then a shift was made to get Mr. Halsey, and he was supported by some Liberal members that he might be ousted again this year, when a majority might be had on the Board. There is one thing certain that Mr. McMillan retiring cannot be said to have served the city faithfully and well, and though he may have some intrigues, from whom he should expect better, working against, he has at least the assurance he has the confidence and respect of the entire community. In the eyes of some, which is the misfortune of others we know of, Mr. McMillan has a mind of his own, a sense of right, and wrong, and he dares to exercise it.

YOUR VOTE.

And any influence you may have is now graciously solicited by the numerous candidates for MUNICIPAL HONORS.

REPUTATION, RETIREMENT.

And other questions of vital importance to the citizens are being thoroughly discussed. Each candidate has remedies legislation in view for Brandon's real and imaginary troubles, and the persistence of ward politicians and crookedness would lead to the belief that only a manly effort could SAVE THE CITY.

In our humble opinion the only way is no immediate danger, and the election of any candidate will not materially affect the standing. There is, however, room for IMPROVEMENT.

And that's the line of business we're in, improving the general appearance of the citizens—individually or collectively, one at a time, by the dozens, or a hundred—just must necessarily improve the city.

HOURS OF SLEEP.

Long Hours of Slumber Absolutely Essential to All Children.

One of the greatest mistakes of parents and those who have charge of children is that they are likely to allow the little ones too little time to sleep says the New York Ledger. With one excuse and another the youngsters are kept up late at night when they should be, and they must be off to school betimes in the morning and if there are duties to be performed they are called long before they have finished their morning nap.

Children, as a rule, ought to sleep ten or eleven hours, and to do this they must be put to bed early enough at night so that they may get this amount of uninterrupted rest. But it is a difficult thing to give children the amount of sleep they require, because there is always something going on in the evening that interests them—some one comes, there is a new paper or book, or something is being talked of that they like to hear. They plead and entreat to stay up just a little longer, and with a spirit of indulgence the parent yields. Of course this means they have a very little repose and a curtailing of rest that nature imperatively demands.

It is no wonder that children are nervous, fretful and difficult to get along with. Their nerves, inherited from their parents, are keenly alive to every sound, and their tempers, none of the best, or they would not be the children of those parents, are irritated by being called out of bed when they go to much time to sleep. During the earlier years of children, whatever else may be done, there should be ample provision for long and undisturbed sleep. It means health and strength in later years, clear heads, good dispositions and well regulated mentally.

Ellen Terry's Age.

People who crave to know the ages of celebrities, and particularly of ladies who are celebrities—will be glad to note, that Miss Helen Terry has confessed that she was born in 1848, although few of her admirers would judge from her appearance that she is 40 years of age. This piece of biographical information was given to an interviewer from the New York Weekly, who has been playing her with questions. Novices in acting will be interested to note that the popular actress was by no means a girl, as regards her first attempts. Mrs. Keen, when Miss Terry was releasing the part of "Princess Arcturion," said to her: "Do you think you would go on like that if your eyes were going to be put out? Why, you would make more fuss if you had lost your doll." A length Miss Terry was so vexed with herself that she burst into a paroxysm of crying. "That's it," was Mrs. Keen's comment, and the crying was repeated at the next rehearsal with success. With Mrs. Conyns Carr's assistance, Miss Terry, it seems, designs all the costumes she wears on the stage. This is important, she thinks, as in her opinion a dress is capable to some extent, of indicating the character of the woman who wears it.—London News.

A MUNICIPAL AUDITOR.

A Suggestion That Such an Office be Created in This Province.

The Winnipeg Tribune says: In view of the mixed state of the accounts of the treasurers of several rural municipalities, a knowledge of several instances where the treasurers suggested to a Tribune reporter that the government should appoint a provincial municipal auditor, whose duty it would be to audit annually the books of the treasurers and send in reports to the government and municipal councils on his findings. By the appointment of a capable official and these audits compulsory, he believed it would not only effect a large saving annually to the municipalities, but would result in raising the standard of rural treasurers and improve the method of keeping the accounts.

"Do you mean, then, that many of the treasurers are dishonest?"

"I know of no dishonest men among them; but I feel satisfied that shortages are accounted for principally because of lack of knowledge, and consequently method and system in keeping accounts. I know of several instances where the balances are wrong, either in favor or against the treasurers, and the men keeping the books are just as mystified at the end of the year as the people they are serving. If they had a knowledge that a government auditor was coming along once a year they would be more careful, and the municipalities would exercise greater thought in making appointments."

The expense of such an office would be little, if anything, greater than the cost of one or two special audits, which usually take place each year. It was suggested that the municipalities might regard the interference of such an official into their affairs as arbitrary, but the gentleman said he did not think so; anyway, he would like to hear an expression of opinion from the treasurers and others interested throughout the province.

A Runaway Car.

The other afternoon a flat car belonging to the Nakup and Slocan Railway, ran loose from its moorings at Three Forks, and started on a voyage of discovery on its own account. By the time it reached New Denver it was going at a speed of sixty miles an hour. Some men who were caught on a track had barely time to lay down and let it pass over them. It is an extraordinary thing that it did not jump the track, but continued on its wild career until it came to a stop some distance from Rimbey, and says something for the present condition of the roadbed. There was nobody on the car and no freight. A human being would have had all the railway travelling he wanted for the rest of his natural life if he had been a passenger by that car.

The expense of the funeral was borne by Miss Julia Cooper, niece of the late Peter Cooper. Mme. De Greville has been more or less dependent for five years upon Miss Cooper and her friends. The mother of the deceased woman was a direct descendant of Louis XVI and her father of a royal Belgian family, one of the sons of which was at one time, chief advisor to the King of Belgium, Gen. Mme. De Greville was born at London twenty-four years ago, and when fourteen was presented at the French court, where she met her husband. After the death of her husband, who was decorated for bravery on the field by Napoleon III, Mme. De Greville settled in Cuba, where she lived on the little money left her by her husband. Fifteen years ago she came to New York, and for five years she and her daughter, who is forty-five years of age, have endeavored to support themselves by curbing feathers, but the mother's failing health made it impossible. The daughter has among a number of relics of Napoleon I, a piece of his court coat. These she will dispose of to keep the wolf from the door.
